OLD 7TH REGIMENT TO BE REVIEWED

Famous National Guard Unit Will Parade Monday With 7,000 in Line.

Though its identity was submerged when it entered the war the old Seventh Regiment (now the 107th) will be the old Police Department. During the time of the parade 6,000 members of the regular ferce and 4,000 reserves will be stationed from the announcement made at the Seventh Regiment Armory, the parade on paper looks as if it might have been torn from the history of the regiment "befo' de wah," even unto Gov. Whitman reviewing the troops from the balcony of the Union League Club, and "Uncle Dan" Applieton (as he is affectionately known. All traffic will be diverted from Fifth avenue between Fifth street and 120th street after 8 o'clock on Tuesday morning. Police lines will be strictly maintained until the last of the troops have passed and no encroachment will be permitted upon the roadway or sidewalk at any time.

The interval was colour from the history of the Union League Club, and "Uncle Dan" Appleton (as he is affectionately known behind his back) leading the "perade." He is Major-Gen. Appleton now, but he was Col. Appleton of the Seventh. And as Colonel he will lead the old Seventh
